Mr. William Colby
Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Colby:

Yours was a statesmanlike appearance on the TODAY Show. And I've followed you thru the hearings with admiration.

More power to you, not less.

Mr. Theurmer, and others whom I have talked, have indicated to you the solid support we have extended to your position for some time.

When Mr. Theurmer sent me your bio, and some other material, and we tentatively confirmed March 14 for your coming to the Palm Beach Round Table,
we were right at press time with our season schedule,
so I went ahead, feeling that while none of us can know what the future holds, from day to day, that you would fill that date barring most unexpected circumstances.

I thank you for your letter and your desire to speak to the Palm Beach Round Table, and do trust that altho it is a date two months distant, that you will accommodate to March 14, rather than some other date.

Mr. Theurmer has been exceedingly cooperative, and represents you admirably. He must be very outstanding and a great help to you.

We know that you have much to contemplate for the future. I've noted an Ambassadorship may be in the making, but whatever, barring your being out of the country, do let us solidify on March 14. The program time, an hour, hour and 15 minutes, to include a Q-A period, is yours in any way you desire.

A lovely reception will follow. A special luncheon prior to the 3 p.m. talk will involve a few very outstanding people. At Round Table you will be before some of the important, influential, foremost citizens of the whole lower Florida east coast, as we draw from Hobe Sound, Stuart on the north, to Ft. Lauderdale, Miami on the south.

If it could be arranged, please know we will delight in having Mrs. Colby come with you, and we will defray her flight expenses as well as yours, and entertain you both, for a long week-end here, at no expense, while you are here, and in a manner that we trust would be compatible in every way to your wishes.

Thank you for further assurances retel March 14.

With highest admiration
and esteem, Mr. Colby,

Frank Wright
